

(s) Our mission has been a smashing success, from where I stand. However, the world may not be ready for our findings. We've proven, beyond a shadow of a doubt, that the rumors of [REDACTED] on the ruins of our stations.

(s) Much to our surprise, not only did the [REDACTED] exist, but they were many. During my team's exploration of the Ekstrom Habitat, we found and categorized a sizeable number of these [REDACTED]. Each existed as one of three loose types, while many existed as clusters of like [REDACTED].

(s) Due to the malicious type, which we labeled [REDACTED] our team tragically lost two members. Agents Skarsgard and Roslund will no longer be serving the Group.

(s) As you will see in our further notes, each [REDACTED] appears to relate somehow to the manner in which its [REDACTED] died. This is hypothesis. Our later notes will establish the foundation for our postulate.

(s) Preliminary psychological reports, [REDACTED] Lindvall suggest that [REDACTED] of the team [REDACTED] minimal but measurable psychological harm, ostensibly due to the radiation levels. We do not recommend extended campaigns from a given Agent.

(s) We recovered trace samples of the mineral we refer to throughout our notes as Second Promethium. It primarily contains [REDACTED], but also trace amounts of [REDACTED]. Unlike Promethium as we know it, this mineral [REDACTED].
